THE WEATHER.

The record of the thermometer yesterday in front of C. W. Brandon's drug store was: 7 a. m., 24 degrees above; 12 m., 37 degrees above; 4 p. m., 40 degrees above; 8 p. m., 33 degrees above.

ABOUT THE CITY.

Santa are on sale at the Smith Drug company's for "Incog."

Hook and ladder meeting at 7:30 sharp to-night at the fire house.

There is in this office a lady's black silk mitten, found on the street.

The city council will meet to-night at 8 o'clock in the standard hall.

The case of the state vs. Dick Irvin was continued for want of material witnesses.

A large shipment of hides will be made from the freight depot to-day or to-morrow.

D. C. Porter of Butte, and his daughter, Mrs. Judge Harwood of Helena, were visitors yesterday.

The several Sunday schools of the city are arranging for Christmas services and trees for the young ones.

Hervey Barbour of Helena, well known on the west side as the owner of some good race horses, is in the city.

There is a large force of men employed in the Montana Union car shops repairing and painting cars and engines.

Two of Marcus Daly's palace stock cars are in the railroad shops at this city being painted and otherwise repaired.

The People's Party club will meet in the Trades and Labor hall, on Chestnut street, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

W. S. Hawk is in the city from Helena. He was recently appointed general manager of the Rocky Mountain Telegraph company.

Incense is being put in the brick residences of Marcus Daly, in Hickory street, and in that of Mr. Donohue, in the same street.

Religious services were held in all the churches yesterday except the Episcopal. It is expected Mr. Freeman will be here this week and conduct services Sunday in that church.

It was reported on the street yesterday that the George mine had closed down for the winter. It is situated in a place almost impossible to reach in winter other than by snow shoes.

Two gentlemen, a physician and a merchant of this city, have claims against David Cohen, the venerable politician of the west side. The unofficial friends decided that Mr. Cohen lost the bet.

While workmen were clearing the right of way for the new railroad over a portion of Walker's ranch, just below the city, they found in some bushes a lot of velvet rolled up in a pair of blankets. The find is at the STANDARD office.

Thirteen car loads of water pipes have thus far been shipped here to be used in piping water from Skalaho to the Bitter Root stock farm; also one car of pig lead for leading said water pipes. The company has sent to Anaconda for men to come and lay the pipes.—Bitter Root Times.

The announcement of the death of Jacob Feldberg at Helena was received with sincere regret by his many friends in the state. Mr. Feldberg was one of the first settlers of Montana, and had gained an enviable reputation for strict business integrity and many generous qualities. He was a member of nearly every secret order in Helena.

The tower of the Park avenue school house was completed yesterday and the roof put on. The entire structure is now under cover, and the work of lathing the halls will begin to-day. The main rooms will be finished in maple, walls, ceilings and all. Water closets and toilet rooms are in the building. Taken all through, it is the finest ward school house in Montana.

REST IN PEACE.

Many Follow the Remains of Mrs. Housh to the Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Charles Housh was one of the largest ever held in Anaconda. Long before the services began, which were announced for 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Methodist church was crowded to overflowing with sorrowing friends and acquaintances, many waiting outside the building to obtain a glimpse of the casket as it was brought from the residence to the church. As the coffin was conveyed from the house the large throng on the outside watched in reverent silence as the remains were borne down the aisle and placed near the altar, where they were met by the Rev. Mr. Lowry, who delivered a short but impressive address. At 2 o'clock the solemn procession formed, preceded by members of the P. O. S. of A. on foot. The pall bearers were: N. H. Morley, S. R. Hunt, E. B. Capps, J. W. Smith, W. S. Hawes and E. W. Spier. There were more than 35 carriages in line.

The mourner's carriage contained the bereaved husband, her only son and three daughters, the oldest being 15 years of age. Dr. Burch, a brother residing in Columbia Falls, was necessarily absent on account of his inability to make railroad connections to reach here in time for the funeral. Her mother and sister reside in Minneapolis. Appropriate services were conducted at the grave, and the remains of an honorable woman whose memory will ever be cherished were tenderly laid to rest to await the calling of Him whose demands are just and upon whose book the noble deeds of the departed are recorded.

TO REORGANIZE.

Old Members of the Lowland Club Anxious to See It Revived.

Some time this week a meeting will be called of the old members of the Lowland club to take some action toward reorganization. As the season for balls and parties is drawing near immediate steps should be taken to form a club. The Lowland was among the first clubs of the city, and their parties have always been successful since the first ball given at the old skating pavilion up to the closing event at the spacious hall in the Montana hotel last winter. Last fall George Wellcome and R. T. Williams started out and secured 100 names and practically did all the heavy work, attending to all the details. They say their initiation money is ready as soon as the soliciting committee calls for it, but as for making the first move in the direction of reorganizing they are inclined to hesitate and let some others, who have not been active heretofore, take the initiative. Whenever an old member is approached on the subject, he expresses a desire to join and to see the club reorganized. It is expected a good attendance will be on hand at the meeting this week.

Hibernian Ball.

The greatest social event of the present week will be the dance to be given by the Ancient Order of Hibernians at the opera house on Thanksgiving night. The committee in charge of the affair are men long experienced in such matters, besides it is well known that the sons of the Emerald Isle never fail to entertain their friends on such occasions in a royal manner. An elegant supper will be served at the Palace hotel, Front street, at $1.50 per couple.

At the Montana.

Those registered at the Montana yesterday were: J. H. Clute, D. D. Randall, St. Louis; Hervey Barbour, Helena; J. C. Twolby, Butte; Frank Durand and wife, Phillipsburg; W. S. Hawk, Helena.

THANKSGIVING EVE.

"Incog" Will Draw a Crowded House—The Salt Cellar.

Those of our theatre goers who will go early to Evans opera house on Wednesday, Nov. 23, will undoubtedly find themselves repaid for their trouble, for Charles Dickson, who appears there on that date, will preface the performance of "Incog," in which he appears later in the evening, by the introduction of a curtain raiser new to them. It is entitled "The Salt Cellar," and is a domestic glimpse in one act from the German of C. A. Gerner, adapted to suit American tastes by Henry Doblin, and it tells in a most amusing manner of the original infidelities which may be attendant upon a newly wedded couple.

It transpired so the story of the little play goes, that a husband and wife, fresh from the hymeneal altar, are partaking of the first dinner of their wedded life and exchanging all manner of lover-like tokens, including those osculatory, and in the interim vowing to each other that they will never permit angry words to pass between them to mar the peace of their household. Everything is transpiring serenely when at this most inopportune moment an innocent salt cellar overturns, upsetting with it the tranquility of this erstwhile model couple, for the wife's superstition being aroused, there ensues, notwithstanding all her husband's efforts to avert it, such a violent altercation as threatens to forever disrupt the peace of that individual family.

The various roles will be sustained by Mr. Dickson, Miss Haslam and Mr. Yorke, thus insuring a perfect and thoroughly refined representation.

Not Interesting to Women.

She, to artist—So that is your Venus? He—Yes. How do you like it? She—Well, to tell you the truth, I am a trifle disappointed. It conveys no idea whatever of the fashion of the time.—Truth.
